Foreword	i
Book One	The System Lords and the Structure of the Twelve Universal Dimensions
Chapter 1	The Nature of the Multi-Dimensional Universe and Ascension 3
Chapter 2	The System Lords and the Third Universal Dimension 22
Chapter 3	The Physical System Lord (Anti-Christed Consciousness) and Its Related Earth Incarnations 37
Chapter 4	The Spiritual System Lord (Christed Consciousness) and Its Related Earth Incarnations 63
Book Two	The Ascension Process of 2012-2250 and The Evolution of Human Consciousness
Chapter 5	The Coming Dimensional and Consciousness Shift 87
Chapter 6	Rebirth of the Earth Realm 117
Chapter 7	How Energy Works and the Nature of Creation 143
Chapter 8	The Union of Body, Spirit and Mind 156
Chapter 9	The Guidance One Attracts 193
Chapter 10	Earth's Ascension and the Extraterrestrial Presence 234
Chapter 11	Ascension Technique and the Coming Golden Era 281

a culture or an individual projects on a certain polarity, or its polar opposite – the idea that what is good is always in conflict with what is bad, or right is always in opposition to what is wrong -- is a matter of a young Soul's limited awareness and perspective.

That said, we would like to reiterate that the Earth you know resides in the third universal dimension, and whether we are speaking of the third sub level of the third universal dimension, or the fourth, fifth, sixth or seventh sub levels (known to you as the Astral Planes) of that third universal dimension, all Earth densities and the space they occupy in your region of the Galaxy are considered by the Galactic community to be “free will” realities. This designation is gifted by the highest dimensional orders, including the ninth universal dimensional realm of Avatars (the System Lords), the tenth universal dimensional realm of the Universal Avatars and the eleventh universal dimensional realm of the Sons of God resonance, which we have discussed previously. As a reality based in Free Will and choice, entities, particularly those of lower vibrational polarity, may not interfere with you directly or harm you against your will. Therefore, no blatant act of aggression or conquest by those from outside the Earth densities is possible. However (and this is a rather important “however”), also because of free will and the current limited level of human consciousness it is possible for you or those within your realm to invite the participation and assistance of outside entities from either persuasion – service to others or service to self. And to be clear, it is not mandated that any entity provide you with a truthful accounting of its intentions, but only that you use your consciousness and free will in exercising a choice in alignment with your own Truth – a Truth that you are also able, through free will, to revise and redirect constantly.

All of this means it is possible, through free will and choice, to invite into your world the participation and potentially the manipulation of those beings and entities from other worlds that have malevolent intent or self-serving interests. Most of your mythology or religious teachings that warn against the “influence” of so-called “evil” is generally a metaphoric reference to such possibility. We would suggest that this possibility is in fact a reality and there have been associations and alliances made, in particular through your secret government organizations, with certain groups of such extraterrestrial beings, some of whom have enticed decision makers with offers to assist them by providing advanced technologies that would serve as avenues for these same organizations and individuals to gain worldly success and unlimited power. This is particularly true of many of the technological advances, some still unknown to most humans on Earth, that have been developed and used throughout your world during the past 50 and more importantly in the past 25 years.

Though there are certainly benevolent extraterrestrial beings that have attempted to assist your species overall by curtailing such effects, it should be known that there are those highly placed (by the populace generally) humans, groups and organizations that based on pre-lifetime arrangements and karmic Soul associations have invited the direct participation of extraterrestrial entities and alien civilizations that do not necessarily have the best interest of Earth's angelic Soul human population at heart. Unbeknownst to their “human” associates, the most prevalent of these extraterrestrial races at the present time has as their principal objective the hampering of your evolutionary universal Ascension and even the permanent isolation of your world together with the Souls experiencing incarnation cycles within it. Their efforts are geared towards potentially trapping your world and the Souls that inhabit it in universal third dimensional density without the possibility of Ascension at this juncture in order to exploit your realm for their own species and purposes.

An explanation and short history as it concerns these statements may be in order here. As we have said previously, since its beginnings your world has been visited by extraterrestrial beings from related as well as higher dimensional planes. Such visitations and assistance are a universal precept related to the creation, propagation and growth of new worlds. When these worlds, having been created, are ready to receive sentient life (again, using our definition of sentient here), there are higher dimensional cultures and orders that are mandated to assist in genetically engineering physical bodies that can accommodate and contain the Souls that have either been cast out for that purpose or that have chosen to undergo incarnation cycles within that new world. In general, these Souls evolve in a manner you are familiar with through many cycles of incarnations on both a physical and a spiritual level. These cycles of incarnation may, in some cases, follow the larger cycles of planetary and dimensional Ascension of which you are now familiar so that it is possible for a Soul matrix to grow in conjunction with the evolution of a specific world or dimensional realm, evolving as it does.

In most cases when a proper course of evolution has been achieved in a new world, one species that is native to it will emerge and be designated “guardian” of that particular realm and this will sometimes encompass a particular region of time and space. It is usually at this point that dimensional free will and evolutionary choice are also achieved. Thus, through genetic refinements and physical engineering assistance received from higher dimensional beings whose mission it is to assist that world’s (time and space) evolution, the guardian species, and whatever races the species may contain, evolve in consciousness, awareness, free will and physical attunement to the point where one day it is able to take its place within the larger galactic family through the process of Ascension. At a certain point in the continuous evolutionary Ascension process (after many 260,000 year cycles,) a guardian species awakes to finally understand its origins as well as its mission within the context of its jurisdiction, and thus wholly new avenues of Soul growth for incarnating Souls becomes possible.

More than half a billion years ago the human angelic species was designated, in principle, to serve as the guardian species of Earth. But it is the third seeding of humankind on Earth that began approximately 3 million years ago that can be said to hold the closest genetic link to the physical beings that evolved from that seeding, which you know as the humans of today. That seeding came about following two prior homo genus extinctions, and it followed on the heels of the more recent extinction, approximately fifty million years ago, of a species you know as the dinosaurs. Thus the first two ancient seedings of homo genus, the seeding of the dinosaur species and the third and final seeding of human genus that followed, all represent what has been referred to by various ancient cultures as the Four Worlds of Earth, the Fifth World soon to arrive with the coming Ascension activation.

Though many hundred million years prior, the first two seedings of human-like beings failed for a variety of reasons mostly related to the inability over time of Souls to consistently and successfully incarnate in physical form within the context of the physical vehicle that had evolved. The physical beings that resulted from the second seeding were not truly related to present day homo sapiens genetically and they evolved into a species that could be better described as humanoid-like giants existing along side other humanoid-like beings that had an incoherent variety of physical attributes including winged beings (these would appear to you more like demonic beings than the angelic beings you might picture) and physical bodies that possessed a combination of human-like, animal and other “off-world” appendages and features. The humanoid-like beings of the second seeding became extinct when their DNA and physical form were no longer viable for human angelic Soul incarnation, growth or evolution. Many of the stories and portrayals in ancient cultures of animal-man hybrid beings are actually energetic echoes in consciousness derived from the second human seeding. It should be noted that these cultures were only expressing a lingering thought-form that resided in man’s consciousness as symbols, portrayed by them millennia after their actual existence.

Following the demise of the second humanoid-like seeding, a long period of non-human existence on Earth saw the intrusion of a highly evolved fourth dimensional reptilian species that attempted to infiltrate Earth and create a guardianship of its own genetic lineage. This fourth dimensional reptilian race, originating in the Draco constellation, anticipated that through time its own lineage would eventually provide physical vehicles of incarnation that would evolve on Earth to a point of galactic awareness and would, at the designated time, provide their species with a strategic foothold in your dimensional realm and solar system. The Earth species they created at the time are loosely known today as the dinosaurs.

The Draco reptilian species was and remains a very successful and intelligent group of third, fourth and soon to be fifth dimensional genetic beings and races, and the Earth dinosaur races they created
